he was, and he is a fine fellow. I have wanted to meet him for such a long while, and really I am very much pleased that I saw him, and I must thank Mr. Gibbs.

"What do you think of him as an opponent?"
"What do you think of him as an opponent?"
"Oh," said Mr. Teall," he is a much slicker man than I thought he was—much slicker and more dangerons. Why, this man is a man of education. You know you hear people say 'Paddy' Divver, and you think right away that he is a tough, a great big tough; but he isn't. I find he is a real gentleman, and he is slick, too, Oh, he is much more dangerons as an opponent than I thought he was, but I am really so pleased that I met him."
"How wid he treat you?" asked the reporters.
"Oh, needy, splendhily," said Mr. Teall, 'These wicked fellows always do, you know, it tell you he is a dangerous man, he looks so slick, Now, he looks to me like a man who would put them all in and keep them there. Oh, he is dangerous, but I am so glad I met him." And then Ollie walked away.

It was about an hour afterward when he run across henny Shea, the man he is puritying.
"Ob, Mr. Shea, 'said Ollie, 'do you know that Diver is here and I met him?"
"Divver hell," said Benny Shea.
"Indeed he is," said Ollie. There he is over there," and he pointed out Nixon.
"Divver nothin," said Shea; "that's some backwoodsman that you've been taiking to. Now, what have you done? Gone and got the organization in disgrace?"

It took Mr. Teall seven and three-quarter mintes to recover, and then he went to find Gibbs. Gibbs had a wicked gleam in his eye when he said:
"Mr. Teall, I am not accustomed to have any that that was not Judge Diver who you were talking to, then Denny Sheal as faisifier of the facts."

"Now, don't jolly me, Fred," said Oille,
"I am not jollying you," said Gibbs.
Oilie went away wondering. He finally got documentary proof that Nixon was not Diver, and then he went to a printer's and spent his money in getting cards printed that read:
"Look at Fred Gibbs's feet.
He had more than ten thousand of these, and he hired a band of Milholland's Coxeyites to distribute them. The town is flooded with them. At a late hour to-night the police were looking for Oille, saying that they would have him indicted for littering the streets.

John Sabine Smith was one of the passengers on the train leaving New York at 6:35 on Sunday night. Hell Gate is in John Sabine's district, and they do not carry dress suit cases over there, but John Sabine had his along when he went to the train. There is an organization in the district known as the Progress Club. This "Progress Club" started out to come to Saratoga with John Sabine. They met him at the depot: they gathered around him and shouted: "Who is John Sabine Smith? First in war, first in peace, and first in the hearts of his countrymen."
They kept up that sort of thing until one member of the club discovered the dress suit case. He just pointed to it and the others looked.

"Good Lord!" said one, "what is he going to

d. ood 'lord!" said one, "what is he going to Good Sord! said one, what is he going to do in Sa a sga with a dress suit?"

One by one they sneaked out of the depot and went away to drown their sorrow. There were just four left when the train started. These came on to Saratoga. Mr. Smith declared to-day that never again would be carry a dress suit case.

Oillie Teall is not the only man who dislikes
Fred Gibbs to day. There is tien. Michael Kerwin, with the gravestone face—so emin, and Michael Kerwa. As he walked past Gibbs, Gibts made a slurring remark, it is not known that Gibbs referred to Gen. Kerwin, but there was nobody else around at the time and the fieneral didn't like it. Mr. Kerwin's attitude to-day has been cold. It was remarked by men that they had seen Ira Davenport and ex-Mayor Chapin and Alouzo B. Cornell, and that these gentlemen were the coldest men they had ever seen, but that Gen. Kerwin beat them all. Mr. Kerwin's colleague on the Police Board, the Hon. Census H. Murray, made up in warmth what Gen. Kerwin lacked. Mr.
Murray travelled around all day with a mansized marquise ring, set with four emeralds and five sapphires. He had also in his company a ruby and diamond cress, to which he was chained with a small gold chain and pin. There has been a man lurking outside of Mr. Murray's door all day, and it is said that he is a Central Office detective, whom Mr. Murray brought up with him to watch his diamond-studded night shirt, to see that none of his constituents got away with it. Sensitor O'Connor is a member of the Lexow committee now investigating the Police Department. He got his eye on Murray's diamonds and he ran right in and addressed a letter to Chairman Lexow.
Of the other well-known men, not heretofore mentioned, who are here and having fun, there is Mr. Edward B. Harper, who is travelling around with a penny bank taking up a collection for the Republican League of Clubs. Then there is Mr. William Leagy, who, although he has moved out of the slaughter district, is still known as "Slaughter-house William." Franklin Woodruff of Greenwood Cemetery is also here. He weighs 492 pounds now, and this afternoon, in an interview, said that 110 of the Brooklyn delegation are here for Jesse Johnson for Judge. The ninety delegates from Rrooklyn delegation are here for Jesse Johnson for Judge. The ninety delegates from

"Really." he said, "I should not have left Newport, but I had to come down, you know." The Hon. James B. Townsend has been for some time Secretary for the Republican League of Clubs. He is going to get out of the place and is going to give it to Otto Irving Wise. Mr. Townsend got his start in politics something like the late Nason H. Waterbury got his. It is said of sir. Waterbury that when his effects were looked over 2,395,000 resolutions were discovered among them. Mr. Townsend has already beaten this record by over a million, and his alleged reason for resigning from the secretaryship is that the League refused positively to pass resolutions. The Republican League of Clubs is a great organization. It is secretaryship is that the secretaryship is that they to pass resolutions. The Republicant League of Clubs is a great organization. It is spoken of as a kindergarten. This morning the "Wicked" Gibbs and Mr. William Leary were discovered in a toy shop down town purchasing toys, one for each delegate. They sent them up toys, one for each delegate. They sent them up to Congress Hall, where they were distributed, to Congress Hall, where they were distributed. much to the delight of the delegates. In the list of toys the jumping jack predominated.

TREASURY CLERKS DISMISSED.

Among the Number Were Two Ladies Who

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17 .- Among the fifteen dismissals made in the Treasury Department to-day, in compliance with the recommendations of the Dockery Commission, were two ladles who have been employed in the Internal Revenue Bureau for more than a quarter of a century. One of them is said to have been among the first appointments made by Salmon P. Chase when he became Secretary of the Treasury. The other was appointed shortly afterward, and there has been a bond of friendship between the two ladies that has rendered them more or less conspicuous in the department service. For many years they have drawn a salary of $1,800 per annum, the highest compensation to women clerks.

The senior in term of service is Misa Jane Seavey, who is a native of Maine, but who was appointed from Tennessee. At an early age she left her home in Maine and went to Tennessee to teach school. Through the influence of Vice-President Hannibal Hamlin she was appointed to a clerkship in the Internal Revenue Bureau, where she has remained ever since, and was finally promoted to be a chief of a division. Her companion is Miss Mary Van Wrangen of New York, who has been a conspicuous figure in the Treasury Department for over twenty-five years, because of her peculiarity of dress. She is exceedingly masculine in her attire, but always gentle and ladylike in her deportment. Among her associates she is good naturedly called the Miss Seavy and Miss Van Wrangen have been almost inscuarable during their long service in the Treasury. They have apartments in the same boarding house, come to the department together daily, and seem to be perfectly satisfied with each other's society at all times. It is said that they have lived a frugal life and invested their surplus earnings to a good advantage, and will retire from the public service quite comfortably situated from a financial point of view. Both of them are regarded as excellent clerks, thoroughly acquainted with the routine of the internal revenue, and fortunately their compulsory retirement from the service will not fall as heavily upon them as a dismissal usually falls upon a Government clerk.

Not wishing to discriminate between the sexes, the Commission recommended the removal of two men who are drawing $1.800 per annum. The unfortunates are 1h, Charles H. Miller of Massachusetts, who has been a clerk in the warrant division for over twenty years, and G. Foster, Chief of Division in the office of the Supervising Architect. Hesides these six other clerks in the classified service and five in the well-selfed service. To day's dismissals swell the number of removals made in compliance with the recommendations of the Commission, and the total number will reach about 200 before the lat of January next. almost inscuarable during their long service in

The rumors from Saratoga to the effect that Congressman Lemuci Ely Quigg is put forward temporary Chairman of the Republican State Convention for the purpose of making ceived with some degree of incredulity by local diticians who have memories more than an pointerians who have memories more than an fusch long. These gontlemen remember that on the bight of Jan. 36 last, when it was known that Mr. Quigg had been elected to Congress, he received many congratulations, one of which was from Thomas C. Platt. To this latter Mr. Quigg hastened to reply over the wire:

"It is your victory rather than mine."

The politicians say thatis young man who is so subservient to Mr. Platt as is indicated by that telegram would hardly raily to his support the Independent County Organization, the Good Government clubs, or the Committee of Seventy.

ROW IN THE LEAGUE CONVENTION. DISPLEASED WITH THE SEVENTS It Arose Over the Nomination of a Milhollandite for First Vice-President. SARATOGA, Sept. 17.—The Convention of the State League of Republican Clubs to-day was rather thinly attended, and was a tame affair until it came to the election of officers. Then the Convention was turned into a scene of turand it was all over the question of anti-machine Republicanism. The Committee on Nominations submitted the names of George E. Greens of Binghamton for reslection to the Presidency, State Treasurer Colvin for Treasurer, and Frederick J. Bryant of Binghamton for Secretary. They were elected unanimously The committee left the selection of Vice-Pres idents to the Convention. Col. George E. Forsyth of Monroe and Otto Irving Wise of New York were nominated for First Vice-President. Then the trouble began. Mr. Wise, who is a hustling young Millhollandite, and who ran for Congress last fall, but was defeated, was slated for the Secretaryship of the League. He had secured enough votes to be elected, but withdrew from the contest upon learning that President Greene desired a Secre-tary who resided in his part of the State. For this magnanimous act he was assured by President Greene that he would be named First Vice-dent Greene that he would be named First Vice-President.

After Mr. Wise had been named, up rose William Rothman of the Committee of Thirty of New York and objected to him as a malcontent, an irregular, and as opposed to the less interests of the Republican party. Then there was a lively time for nearly an hour. Delegates were on their feet all over the hall deprecating the introduction of New York city's faction fight into the Convention, and extolling the work of Mr. Wise. The Monroe men improved the diversion to push Col. Forsyth's claims. M. M. Mulhall said a man is none the less a Republican for being a friend of Miholland. J. Hassinger of New York said that Wise was not a fair representative of the New York delegation, and named Alexander T. Mason, a regular, in his stead.

and named Alexander T. Mason, a regular, in his stead.
Fulton county, Broome county, and Erie county seconded Mr. Wise, while Job E. Hedges of New York seconded Col. Forsythe of Monroe, and Westchester also seconded Forsyth.

In the midst of the excitement Mr. Wise was recognized, and after stating how his name came to be used for the place, said that in the same spirit with which he had withdrawn from the race for the Secretaryship he withdrew from the present contest. He was greeted with yells of "No, no!" He added that it was true he had been actively connected with the Milholland movement in the past and expected to be connected with it in the future, whether it is regarded as regular or irregular, but that whatever the action of the Convention to-morrow, the men named by it would be actively supported by the faction to which he belongs.

After some further discussion, Mr. Wise Insisted on his withdrawal, and moved the unanimous election of his opponent, Col. Forsyth of Meanne, Mr. Wise the second of the convention Col. Forsyth of Meanne, Mr. with park in sisted on his withdrawal, and moved the unant-nous election of his opponent, Col. Forsyth of Monroe. His motion prevailed. W. J. Parkin-son then nominated Mr. Wise for Second Vice-President. He was elected unanimously, E. A. Merritt, Jr., of St. Lawrence, was elected Third Vice-President. A resolution offered by Mr. Wise, that the League hold no more Conventions at the same time as State Conventions for the reason that the League is lost sight of at that time, was re-ferred to the Executive Committee with power. At 7:20 P. M. the Convention adjourned sine die.

The mass meeting held in Convention Hall to-night, under the auspices of the Republican night, under the auspices of the Republican League of Clubs of the State of New York, was attended by 1,500 people. President Green was unable to be present and State Treasurer Addison B. Colvin presided.

Congressman E. Payne of Auburn, Congressman Ray of Chenaugo county, the Hon. W. J. Parkinson of Baliston, Charles W. Anderson of New York city, State Treasurer Colvin's private secretary, were the speakers.

MILHOLLAND NAT UPON.

The State Committee Tables His Demand

SARATOGA, Sept. 17.-Neither John Milholand nor any of his delegation will get a seat on the floor of the Convention. This was settled at to-night's meeting of the State Committee Henry Grasse, who is the member of the committee from the Fifteenth district, and who is the only member of the committee friendly to Milholland, presented his case and asked for seats for the delegation, whether or not they were allowed to vote. The committee without hesitation laid the matter on the table. Then Mr. Grasse said that he had 500 men here, and as they paid $10 car fare and were paying $3 a day for hotel fare here he thought they ought to get seats in fare here he thought they ought to get seats in the nall. The committee said they could come in, so the tickets will be given to Mr. Milholland in the morning. His delegation will sit with the crowd. Mr. Grasse will present Mr. Milholland's case to-day to the Committee on Credentials. He doesn't expect that the committee will give him a leg to stand on, neither does Milholland. Milholland said so to-night, and he added that he didn't see how the committee could possibly do anything else and that he was getting as much as he expected.

O'ROURKE MUST GO.

Secretary Carlisle Calls for the Resignation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.-Secretary Carlisle to-day asked for the immediate resignation of Jeremiah O'Rourke of Newark, N. J., supervising architect of the Treasury Department. The letter requesting the resignation was handed Mr. O'Rourke shortly before 4 o'clock this after-Mr. O'Rourke was appointed by Secretary Carlisle shortly after the advent of the present Democratic Administration, succeeding W. J. Edbrooke of Chicago. He was one of a lozen prominent applicants and was backed politically by Senators Smith and McPherson of New Jersey, and, in fact, by the whole Democratic delegation of New Jersey, besides by a number of prominent architects of the North number of prominent architects of the North and East.

Several times within the past year he has, in the conduct of his office, had friction with his superior officers and with under officials appointed by Secretary Carlisle. One of the latest misunderstandings, it is said, took place with W. B. Fleming, chief of the law and contract division of his office. Mr. Fleming is a personal friend of Secretary Carlisle, and in this latest office controversy the Secretary, it is said, upheld Mr. Fleming. Mr. O'Rourke was born in ireland, and is about 45 years of age. The salary of the place is $4,500 a year, which is one of the best in the Treasury service, and the place is one of vast responsibilities.

The Secretary's request did not reach Mr. O'Rourke until just before the department closed, and he immediately wrote a note to the Secretary urging the latter to withhold his demand for immediately wrote a note to the Secretary urging the latter to withhold his demand for immediately wrote a note to the Secretary and obtain a personal explanation. Of course Secretary Carlisle granted the request and the matter will be considered to-morrow. Neither Secretary Carlisle granted the request and the matter will be considered to-morrow. Neither Secretary Carlisle mor Mr. O'Rourke could be induced to make a statement on the subject to-night, but it is understood that the Secretary action was taken after due deliberation, and there is but little probability of reversing his decision. It is said that the Secretary is convinced that Mr. O'Rourke has not administered the affairs of the Supervising Architect's office in an acceptable manner, and a change is demanded in the Interest of the service.

MAXWELL ON NEW YORK POLITICS. He Thinks the Bemorrate Will Hold Their

WASHINGTON, Sept. 17.-Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General Robert Maxwell appears to be greatly exercised over the prospects of the Democratic party in New York. He says he cannot get away from Washington while the pressure of his official duties is so great, nor can he obtain any satisfactory information from his friends in New York. In discussing the situation to-day, he said that he does not take the despondent view of the Congressional fight in New York that some of his Democratic brethren do. On the contrary, he contends that the Democrats will hold their own in New York, and that although the Democratic majority in the next Congress may be reduced, still they will retain a good working force, sufficient to control the organization of the House. So far as the New organization of the House. So far as the New York State election is concerned, he does not look for the election of a Republican Governor, provided the Democracy bury their factional differences and present a united front to the forces under the leadership of Tom Platt. The latter Mr. Maxwell regards as a political Jonah, and points to the fact that Mr. Platt has never led a successful fight since he became prominent in New York politics.

Both political committees here are deeply interested in the peculiar situation in New York State. The fight there is regarded as the most important as relating to the next Presidential election of all the contests of this fail. The indications in this mortaing's despatches that the Republican nomination will be made at the dictation of Tom Platt are unsatisfactory to Republicans who are interested in the party as a national organization. It is not that there he any particular objection to Mr. Morton, but the fact that if mominated he would be recognized as Platt's man, and this would weaken an otherwise strong candidacy.

All the great hotels at Saratoga will remain open during the entire mouth of heptember. Only four hours from New York by the New York Chantal. - Adv.

Name a Ticket Next Tuesday There is much dissatisfaction among the re formers who are desirous of effecting the down-fall of Tammany Hall with the composition of the Seidl Hall Committee of Seventy, which has assumed to direct the war against the Wigwam and furnish the Generals therefor after the other fellows have spent their time and money In organizing the armies. This feeling that the Seidl Hall gentlemen, with their Committee of Seventy, are trying to reap the benefit of the anti-Tammany organization, which has been going on in the city for the past two years, is creating a bad impression among the reformers, which, it is expected, will seriously hamper the work of the committee. Representatives of the Good Government clubs are specially displeased with the make-up of the committee, despite the fact that they have a good representation on it, including J Augustus Johnson, President of their Confederated Council, and W. Harris Roome, Chairman of their adjourned County Convention. They do not like the committee for many reasons. chiefly because it is not so representative as it should be. The Good Government Club movement is not confined to a section or a class. It has been extended throughout the city and has enlisted all sorts of men in its work. They don't like the committee because only one member of it lives below Fourteenth street, and he only a short distance below it. He is Lawrence J. Cal-lanan and is the only Irish-American on the anan and is the only Irish-American on the committee.

The Good Government Club reformers, too, are dissatisfied with the number of out-and-out Republican politicians whom Mr. Larocque has chosen. They cannot understand how men like Gen. Anson G. McCook, who aspired to succeed Jacob M. Patterson as Republican boss in New York, Gen. Charles A. T. Collis, a district leader, and James A. Blanchard, can sink their partisanship and work consistently for a non-partisan ticket.

Another grievance which these enterprising young politicians are said to have was occasioned by a discovery they made when they undertook to analyze the strength of the committee. Mr. Preble Tucker, it is said, found that fully one-fitted that the said is not evinced sufficient interest in national, State, or municipal affairs to register or vote for several years.

There is little faith among the Good Government Club men that the Committee of Seventy will satisfactorily accommish the purpose for

There is little faith among the Good Government Club men that the Committee of Seventy will satisfactorily accomplish the purpose for which it was formed, and, in anticipation of their failure, W. Harris Roome announced yesterday that he will call the Good Government Club's County Convention to reconvene in Vienna Hall on Sept. 25. This meeting will be for the purpose of making nominations, and it is called so as to get a ticket in the field ahead of the Republicans, who will hold their County Convention on Sept. 27. Mr. Roome said:

"The Good Government clubs will not be party to any deals for a division of the spoils of office. We prefer a union of all anti-Tammany forces, but it must not be brought about by any deal. If the union does not suit us we shall run our own ticket and stand up to be counted. We do not make great prefensions as to numbers, but we have 6,000 voters in our clubs, and they are certainly something of a force.

Mr. Gustav H. Schwab said yesterday that the list of names of gentlemen who declined to serve on the Committee of Seventy which has been published was not complete, and that all those who declined had good reason for doing so. He did not say what the reasons were, but some Tammany men asserted that one of the reasons in the case of several is that they, like Commodore Gerry, are satisfied with the Commodore Gerry, are satisfied with the economical government which Tammany Hall has given the city for the past six years.

The Committee of Seventy will meet and organize in the rooms of the Chamber of Commerce at 2:30 o'clock to-morrow afternoon.

DEPEW WILL NAME NO ONE. He Is Not a Delegate and Will Not Attend

the Convention. The announcement that Dr. Chauncey M. Depew would attend the Republican State Convention for the purpose of presenting the name of Mr. Morton was evidently made without the authority of the Doctor, who denied the story last night and said that it was not his intention to go to the Convention. It seems that the Doctor was invited to expend some of his eloquence in a eulogy of Mr. Morton before the State Con vention, but he declined te serve in the capacity

In his interview with a reporter on his eturn from Europe last Friday Dr. Depew said that he would not make a declaration in favor of any candidate, despite the fact that Mr. Thomas C. Platt had been quoted as saying that he (the Doctor) would announce himself as favorable to the nomination of Mr. Morton. It was supposed vesterday that Dr. Depew would disappoint tho who expected him to name Mr. Morton, because he has put himself so unreservedly on record against endorsing any candidate. From what Mr. Depew said last night at his home in Dobbs Ferry it would seem that that was not the cause or his refusal of the invitation. "I have been attending State Conventions of the Republican party for thirty-five years." said Mr. Depew, "and I must say that I expected on my return from Europe to find that, in my absence, I had been chosen a delegate to the Convention which is to be held at Saratoga to-morrow. When I found, instead, that I was to-morrow. When I found, instead, that I was not wanted as a representative of any constituency in that Convention. I felt myself free to attend to business. There were from fifty to one hundred urgent telegrams on my desk at the Grand Central Station soliciting appointments for important business interviews, and I set about attending to these.

"Within the past twenty-four hours I have been overwhelmed with requests to go to the Saratoga Convention, but the important business engagements I made when free to do so preclude the possibility of my accepting. If I went some other fellow would have to be turned out, and I would represent no constituency. I don't like that."

"Is it true that you were invited to make a speech nominating Mr. Morton, Doctor?"

"Test."

"Yes."
"Yes."
"By whom were you invited?"
"Oh, you may say by the State Committee."
"Had you any objection to nominating Mr.
Morton in the Convention?"
"Oh, no! Nothing against Mr. Morton; nothing at all. You may say that if I were a delegate to that Convention I would be there. I would have a candidate for Governor and I would make a speech for him."
"If you were a delegate, Doctor, who would be the candidate for whom you would make a speech?"

speech?"
"Well, well! I'm not a delegate."
"Would it be Mr. Morton?"
"I'm not a delegate," repeated Mr. Depew.

OHIO'S DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION The Question of Endorsing Cleveland or Brice Will Come Up.

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 17.—The Democratic State Convention will be held in this city to-morrow and Wednesday. The preliminary work will be done to-morrow, and the Convention proper will done to-morrow, and the Convention proper will nominate a State ticket on Wednessday. There promises to be a sharp fight as to whether Presi-dent Cleveland shall be endorsed or not, and the same may be said as to Senator Brice. Some of the Ohio Democratic newspapers and a few lemocratic county conventions have de-nounced Brice's actions on the new Tariff bill, but Ohio's junior Senator will have many friends in the Convention ready and willing to defend him.

ALLIANCE, O., Sept. 17.—E. S. Baff was to-day nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Eighteenth district. Resolutions denouncing Senator Brice for his action on the Tariff bill were adopted.

ALL AGAINST GORMAN.

Postmaster Warfield of Baltimore in the War on the Senator.

BALTIMORE, Sept. 17. The list of Post Office appointments announced by Postmaster War-field gives very cold comfort to Senator Gorman and his friends. Every man on the list is what is known as a Cleveland man, but the appointees are especially disagreeable to Gorman and the are especially disagreeable to torman and the regulars. They have taken a most active part in all anti-dorman campaigns, and have even supported Republican State and municipal can-didates against the regular Democratic ticket. The regulars, however, declars that they ex-pected nothing else from Warfield, who was a leader in the anti-diorman movements.

A full county ticket was also named, and the following were chosen as delegates to the State Convention: Ernest R. Bordwell, Charles Berry, and Edward N. Rose. Delegates from every town attended the Convention and adopted a set of resolutions, among which were endormements of for. Flower and President Cieveland in regard to the appointment of M. A. is New on the Executive Committee Taking Ex-Sheriff Gorman's Place. Ex-Sheriff John J. Gorman has resigned as Chairman of the Printing Committee of Tammany Hall, and Mayor Gilroy, as second on that imittee, has succeeded to the Chairmanahip. There is a significance in this change not apparent on the surface.

At the meeting of the Tammany Hall Committee on Organization, held last Thursday night, on motion of James J. Martin, the Chairman of the Printing Committee was made, ex officio a member of the Executive Committee. Thus a seat in the governing body of the Wigwarn was made for Mayor Gilroy, who has come to be looked upon as the leader of the organiza tion, and who, as such, should have a voice and vote in its Executive Committee. Croker, while leader of Tammany Hall, was Chairman of the Finance Committee, and as such was a member ex officio of the Executive Committee. When Mr. Croker was succeeded Committee. When Mr. Croker was succeeded in the Executive Committee by ex-Police Justice John McQuade, no one believed that Mr. McQuade succeeded also to the leadership of the organization.

The action by which a place was found in the committee for Mayor Gilroy is regarded as strongly confirmatory of the statement that he has taken the place in the organization formerly occupied by Mr. Croker. Mayor Gilroy does not believe this, but the other leaders in Tammany Hall do.

does not believe this, but the other leaders in Tammany Hall do.

The Mayor attended the first meeting of the Executive Committee held since his membership in it was provided for at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon. This meeting was held for the purpose of making some general arrangements regarding the primaries for the election of delegates to the State Convention. Details for the trip to Saratoga were also discussed.

There will be two or three special trains of Wagner palace cars to carry the braves to Saratoga. They will leave the Grand Central Station next Monday forenoon, Fully 750 men are expected to be of the party, and tickets for them will be distributed to the district leaders at Tammany Hall on Friday.

THEY ASK JONES TO RESIGN. Nevada Republicans Say They Are Entitled . to a Republican Senator.

CARSON, Nev., Sept. 17.-Senator John P. Jones of Nevada has been officially notified by his for mer constituents that his course in leaving the Republican party and joining the Populists is disapproved, and has also been asked to resign his seat in the Senate. In a long letter to the Senator, drafted by Chairman Coffin and approved by the State Central Committee, Mr. Jones is severely criticised for his action and reminded of the fate of Sumner, Schurz, Trumbull, and other distinguished leaders who broke faith with their party. The letter concludes as faith with their party. The letter concludes as follows:

"We desire to remind you that you were elected to the United States Senate as a Republican, by the Republican party. In the strictest sense the office is a political one, and the Republican party is entitled to representation for the full term of six years from the 4th of March, 1891. As you now amounce that you can no longer act with the party that elected you, every consideration of propriety and delicacy requires you to resign. In the name of the Republican party of Nevada we respectfully request you to do so."

WON'T FORGIVE TREACHERY.

Massachusetts Young Democrats Denounce Boston, Sept, 17 .- At a meeting of the Young Men's Democratic Club of Massichusetts this afternoon the following resolutions condemning Senators Brice, Gorman, Smith, and Murphy for obstructing the passage of the Wilson bill were offered by Charles Francis Adams, 2d, and adopted by the club:

adopted by the club:
Although we recognize the vast superiority of the present Tariff act to the detestable trust-protecting Mckinley act, we do not forget or forgive scandal and treachery within our own party, and whereas we accepted the Chicago platform in full faith, and are justly indignant that untrustworthy Democrate should join with the Mckinley party to prevent the fulfillment of our pledged word; therefore be it Resolved, That the Young Men's Democratic Club of Massachusetts denies the right of Senators forman, Brice, Smith, and Murphy to represent the Democratic price. Smith, and Murphy to represent the hemocratic party, and demands their removal from all positions of trust and honor within our party, as being grossly faithless to party pledges; and.

*Resolved, That it is the part of true Democracy to demand the immediate aboiltion of every duty which gives a special protection to any trust or combination, and especially of all discriminating duties in favor of the Sugar Trust.

*Resolved, That we readlism our faith in President.

WARNING TO THE SEFENTY. Uneastness of the Rival Anti-Tammany

Organizations. The Independent County Organization's Campaign Committee of Fifteen met in the office of John D. Townsend, 51 Chambers street, yesterday afternoon, Mr. Townsend presiding. On motion of Ernest Harvier resolutions were adopted declaring that it would be unwise for any of the organizations opposed to Tammany to name a municipal ticket without conferring with the others, and declaring "that all honorable the others, and declaring "that all honorable efforts to bring about a union of forces should be made before any nominations are made."

These resolutions are understood to be a warning that any attempt on the part of the Committee of Seventy to nominate a ticket without consulting the men who have been organizing the anti-Tammany forces will be fraught with danger to the anti-Tammany cause. Similar resolutions are expected from the Anti-Tammany Democracy.

ACTOR W. H. THOMPSON ASSAULTED Accused by a Sacramento Sporting Man of Hutning His Baughter's Life,

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Sept. 17,-W. H. Thomp son of the Frohman Company was assaulted in the barroom of the Golden Eagle Hotel shortly before midnight on Saturday by John Greer, a veteran sporting man of this city. Thompson plays one of the leading parts in "Sowing the Wind," which was produced at the Metropolitan Theatre last week.

It is said that a number of years ago Thomp son visited Sacramento with a company, and became acquainted with Greer's daughter. She was stage struck, and Thompson induced her to join her fortunes with his and become an actress. They went east together, but evidently did not get along well, for Greer made a trip East and brought her home. He asserts that Thompson rulned his daughter's life. Greer attempted to use a knife, but was seized and held by friends, while Thompson made his escape. Thompson is in hiding.

Mr. Thompson has not many intimates either in or out of the profession. One of his friends remembers to have heard him speak of his wife, who, the friend understood, was a Californian, Mr. Thompson spoke of her with great affection, and blamed her parents for bringing about a separation by their interference. Others of Mr. Thompson's associates said they did not know he was married.

KALNOKY'S POLICY ATTACKED. Young Czechs in Hungary Also Assatt the

BUDAPEST, Sept. 17 .- During the progress of the debate on the budget in the Austro-Hungarian delegations to-day Herr Pacak, a young Czech, protested against the foreign policy of Count Kalnoky, which, he said, ought to be amended. It imposes a grievous burden upon the people through the Dreibund, which the Czechs detested. The Government, he declared, could better assure peace to the country and as tented if the Emperor Francis Joseph were crowned King of Bohemia with a Bohemian crowned King of Bonemia with a Joseph and Constitution.

Marquis von Bacquebem, Minister of the Interior, replied that if the Dreibund fild not exist the defensive armament of Austria would be more costly than it is at present. Anstria's relations with France were entirely friendly. Nobody desired external peace and internal order more warmly than Emperor Francis Joseph.

Touching Roumania, he said it was the first country to announce its adherence to the principles of the Dreibund, and nothing had occurred to change the Roumanian policy.

FRENCH WAR SHIPS AT TOULON. M. Lockray Reports Them as Being in Very Bad Condition.

PARIS, Sept. 17 .- M. Lockray, who early this year was sent by the Naval Committee of Inquiry to examine into the condition of the fortifications at Toulon and the efficiency of the French war vessels stationed there, has made his report. He says that when the torpedo fleet at Toulon was inspected, out of fifty-one only five vessels were in condition to proceed at once to sea should the necessity have arisen. Many boiler explosions have been caused by the ig-norance of engineers, and in several irstances it has been found that plates furnished by the Crenzot works were defective. The normal con-dition of the torpedo fleet at Toulon is said to be one of lack of preparation.

Marine Disasters.

LONDON, Sept. 17 .- The British bark Capenhurst, from Newcastle, N. B., Aug. 28, for Liverpool, was abandoned on Sept. 9 in latitude 48° north, longitude 38° west. She was waterlogged and only her mainmast was standing. Her crew were rescued with great difficulty, a heavy gale prevailing at the time. One scaman was drowned. Another vessel was sighted half a mile away, but there were no signs of life about her.

The Norwegian bark Vidfarne, Capt. Jorgensen, at Runcorn, from Shediac, was broken from her moorings yesterday by the wash of a passing steamer. Before she could be got under control the Vidfarne was driven against the British steamer Blencowe. The latter vessel sustained no injury, but the Vidfarne's stern was considerably damaged.

Visitors who were fortunate enough to be in the Yosemite on Monday, Aug. 27, and the residents of the valley were treated to a speciacle that is more than rare in this vast show place of nature. It was not only a remarkably beautiful sight, but the phenomena that preceded and accompanied it were just a little slarming.

For several weeks the falls and streams had been gradually drying up. The roads were dusty and the grass and trees parched. The Yosemite Falls had dwindled to almost nothing and the Merced River was low, while the smaller streams were altogether dry. Saturday and Sunday were warm, sultry days, with light thunder showers. Such showers are not unusual in the summer, and they are very welcome after the long dry season. Seldom do they afford anything like the mighty climax that came on Monday.

In the forenoon the weather looked threatening, and guests were deserred from taking the trails. In the middle of the afternoon it began to rain. Masses of dark clouds were piled up in the sky. There were binding flashes of lightning; clap after clap of thunder echoed and reschoed from the walls. Soon streams of water began to trickle down the dry water courses and over the faces of the rocks. El Capitan was wreathed in falling water and spray. The falls of the Sentinel, gone for weeks past, suddenly boomed with a mass of inky water which carried with it boulders apparently tons in weight. The rocks bounded and plunged through the water, disappearing to start on fresh leaps until they reached the bettom in fragments. Campers gathered their effects and ran to the nearest shelier.

Then the storm seemed to roll away to the northward. The clouds broke, and the sum came

ANTI-TILLMANITES CONFER.

Debating Whether to Nominate a Regula

COLUMBIA, S. C., Sept. 17. -It is probable that the anti-Tillman Democrats will place a ticket in the field in the general election against the regular Tillman Democratic ticket. Up to nearly midnight the State Convention, called to meet here to-night to consider this question and reorganize the Democracy, has not assembled. Almost the entire time since dark was devoted to a preliminary conference. All but three counties are represented. About 300 men are here to consider the situation. The conference is being held with closed doors and orators are waxing warm over "nomina-tions or no nominations." It was expected that at 8 o'clock the Convention would be in session, free to all, and an immense crowd surrounded the door, impatient to get inside. Several at-tempts were made to force an outrance, and one Tillmanite did succeed in breaking in, but was ejected.

The vessel had been seized by a United States gunbost and had been handed over to a British man-of-war to deal with. Sir Charles said there is no provision in the Paris award making the scaling up of guns on scaling vessels imperative.

Wife of Honored Public Man Writes a Letter.

It is This Letter Which is Doing So Much Good.

G. A. Williamson, Esq., has for thirty-five years been City Recorder of Deeds of Providence, R. I. During all this time he and his family have occupied a very prominent position in Providence, where they are held in the up-most regard and esteem by everybody. They reside at 8 Bradford street.

Mrs. Williamson has for a long time been a great sufferer. She has lately been cured of her complaints by a most remarkable remedy, and her love for her fellow-beings is such that she writes the following letter, telling them just what to do to be well and strong:

"For some time I had been troubled with numbness of my hands and arms. It was very distressing and a constant annoyance to me My nervous system was badly affected. I was unable to sleep, getting but very little rest at night. I suffered from indigestion and my appetite was very poor. I learned of Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy, and hearing it most highly spoken of, determined to use it. It had helped so many despairing sufferers I believed it would help me. After taking the second bottle I noticed a marked improvement and I continued to steadily gain in all respects. I cheerfully recommend Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy to all sufferers."

No wonder everybody is taking this remarkable medicine, for it is a known fact that Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy always cures. If you have any such troubles, if your hialth is not exactly what is should be, take Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy. It will make you well. It is the discovery of Dr. Greene of 35 West 14th st., New York city, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free, personally or by letter. Don't neglect your health, but take his wonderful medicine now.—Adv. night. I suffered from indigestion and my om the Rochester Democrat and Chronicle. "This has been a great year for the wood-chuck," said John M. Lown of Benton, Yates

"Well," said Mr. Lown, "It would seem as if the woodchuck had never been heard of before this summer, for I never saw so much woodchuck literature in print as I have this season. Early in the summer there was a controversy in Forest and Stream about the ability of the woodchuck to climb a tree. Now every farmer and every farmer's son knows that a woodand every farmer's son knows that a woodchuck, or at least some woodchucks, can climb trees. The woodchuck does not care particularly about climbing a tree, but if a dog gets between him and his burrow and there is a tree handy he will climb it rather than stay on the ground and fight with the dog. The woodchuck will not climb to the top of the tree, but will go as far as the first large limb, upon which he will sit and grin at the dog barking and gnawfing the bark of the tree below.

"But, as I was saying, this has been a great season for woodchuck literature. After the fact that woodchucks can climb a tree had been established some one came to the front with a story about a woodchuck of an iron-gray color, It was reported that such a woodchuck had been seen by a correspondent of The Sun on the care of a swamp, and some persons came to the conclusion that this was a swamp woodchuck, something heretofore unheard of.

"Now, right here is where I jump into the arena and take part in the woodchuck discussion." I am a practical man, and go in for facts.

arena and take part in the woodchuck discus-sion. I am a practical man, and go in for facts, not theories. And in this case I have the facts right at home on my farm in the form of a white or albino woodchuck, and I think he is the only albino woodchuck on record.

"About his history? Well, it is not a long one. I live on the old Capt. Brown farm, about 25 miles north of Penn Yan, in the town of Ben-ton. On the evening of Aug. 30 as I was a ton. On the evening of Aug. 30, as I was returning home from work in the field, I saw something white out in the meadow. It was quite a distance from me, and as the first glance I thought it was a white cat. As I came nearer to the animal it ran into some weeds along the fence, and then it climbed to the top of the fence and sat there looking around. I then got a good view of it, and saw that it was not a cat but just what kind of an animal it was I could not tell. I thought it might be a large ferret that some one had lost, and I walked toward the fence thinking I might catch it, but when I got near it scrambled from the fence and ran into a hole in the ground.

had lost, and I walked toward the fence thinking I might catch it, but when I got near it scrambled from the fence and ran into a hole in the ground.

"My curiosity was now thoroughly aroused, and I determined to capture the mysterious animal. So I stopped up the hole into which it had run, went home and got a neighbor and a spade, and we came back for the nurpose of digging the beast out. The hole was not a deep one, and we were soon so near the animal that I could poke it with a stick. As soon as it felt the end of the stick in its ribs it disclosed its woodchuck nature by biting at the stick, gritting its teeth, and sounding that shrill whistle the woodchuck always sounds when he thinks danger is near. My neighbor then kept watch while I went to the house and procured a tin box. We put the box over one end of the hole and then put a stick in at the other end and punched the woodchuck into the box. There was no other woodchuck in that hole. I think he was one of a family that had just broken up, for woodchucks live separately after they are half grown. This was a woodchuck born last spring. The place where he was caught was beside a fonce that separates two messiow lots, and about six rods from a wood lot. I took him home and have him now. When first captured he was very pugnacious, but I can now stroke him lightly with a small sick without making him anary. He cais sweet applea and clover and is doing finely. He is pure white in color and has pink eves.

"He is a great curiosity, and many people and clover and see him. No one who has seen him had ever before seen an albino woodchuck. There is some one at my farm every day to see him."
